During the operating period, we anticipate continuing to invest in Capital Assets. Following our operating period, we will enter our liquidation period, during which time the loans and leases we own will mature or be sold in the ordinary course of business.

Net carrying value is our investment in finance lease less any outstanding indebtedness associated with the investment.

(4) This investment is through a joint venture that we consolidated and presented on our consolidated balance sheets as net investment in finance lease. Net investment in finance lease is the sum of the remaining minimum lease payments receivable, the estimated residual value of the asset and the unamortized initial direct costs, less unearned income. Net carrying value represents our proportionate share of the investment, less any outstanding indebtedness associated with the investment and includes the recognition of an investment by noncontrolling interests for the share of such investment held by the joint venture's noncontrolling interest holders.

(5) This investment is through a joint venture that we consolidated and presented on our consolidated balance sheets as leased equipment at cost. Leased equipment at cost is the cost of the equipment and initial direct costs, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated amortization. Net carrying value represents our proportionate share of the investment, less any outstanding indebtedness associated with the investment and includes the recognition of an investment by noncontrolling interests for the share of such investment held by the joint venture's noncontrolling interest holders.

(6) Net carrying value of our investment in joint ventures is calculated as follows: investment at cost plus/less our share of the cumulative net income/loss of the joint venture and less distributions received since the date of our initial investment.

Discussion

Jurong Aromatics Corporation Pte. Ltd.

Jurong is a newly constructed $2 billion state-of-the art aromatics plant. We participated in a subordinated equipment loan in April 2011 alongside Standard Chartered Bank and BP Singapore Pte. Ltd., that was part of the $2 billion financing package that included over $500 million in equity from strategic investors. While the plant was completed on time, a combination of industry headwinds, downturn in commodities and the Chinese economic slowdown forced Jurong into receivership, as the company does not have the liquidity to commence operations. As part of the receivership, we are hoping that there will be a consensual restructuring with the senior lenders, shareholders and trade creditors. Given the current distressed situation, we have taken a credit reserve that values the asset at 11% of original cost. Our Investment Manager believes that a restructuring is the best option and, given the cyclical nature of the industry that Jurong participates in, and the fact that this is the newest and arguably most technologically advanced aromatics plant in the world, if margins follow historical patterns, there is a chance the investment value may recover some or all of its value.

Kyla Shipping Company

Kyla is a Greece-based ship management company. In 2011, we made a second lien loan secured by one of Kyla's dry bulk vessels. Currently, there are extreme headwinds facing the dry bulk market, mostly as a result of the slowdown in the Chinese economy, which for years was driven by heavy investment that fueled demand for steel, coal and iron ore. As China moves towards a consumer-driven economy, demand for these commodities has slowed significantly. Consequently, Kyla is in default on the loan and we are working with Kyla on a restructuring. In addition, given the depressed market, we have taken a credit reserve of 97% of original cost. Kyla is currently maintaining the vessels and we believe that the best option is to keep the vessels with Kyla while we work on a restructuring and wait for the market to hopefully recover.

Técnicas Marítimas Avanzadas, S.A. de C.V.

On August 27, 2014, we, ICON Leasing Fund Twelve, LLC and ICON Equipment and Corporate Infrastructure Fund Fourteen, L.P. ("Fund Fourteen"), (collectively, "ICON") advanced TMA a senior secured facility of $29,000,000 secured by two offshore supply vessels. On November 24, 2014, such facility agreement was amended to allow for a senior secured first lien and second lien structure and to include an additional two offshore supply vessels as security for the facility. A senior secured first lien tranche of $66,000,000 was funded by an unrelated third party and ICON's original loan of $29,000,000 was converted to the senior secured second lien tranche. As a condition to the amendment and increased facility size, TMA was required to have all four vessels under contract by March 31, 2015.

On March 31, 2015, TMA defaulted on the facility because only two of the four vessels had commenced employment. As a result of such default, the senior lender is, among other things, entitled to receive all cash flow from the existing employed vessels to pay interest and reduce its principal balance. The interest on ICON's tranche is currently being capitalized. By January 2016, each of the four vessels had commenced employment as originally required under the terms of the facility. ICON is currently working with the senior lender and TMA to amend the facility agreement.

10% Status Report

As of December 31, 2015, the photolithograph immersion scanner leased to Inotera Memories, Inc. (“Inotera”), the car carrier vessel bareboat chartered to Høegh Autoliners Shipping AS (“HAS”) and the mini geotechnical drilling vessel bareboat chartered to Fugro N.V. (“Fugro”), were the investments in equipment that individually constituted at least 10% of the net book value of our investment portfolio. All three of these assets are scheduled to remain in use during the 2016 calendar year.

As of December 31, 2015, Inotera had eleven monthly payments remaining. To the best of our Investment Manager’s knowledge, the photolithograph immersion scanner is maintained in accordance with applicable laws and regulations as required under the lease agreement. On March 31, 2016, we were notified by Inotera Memories, Inc. (Inotera) that it will be exercising its option to purchase the photolithograph immersion scanner in or around November 2016.

As of December 31, 2015, HAS had sixty monthly payments remaining. To the best of our Investment Manager’s knowledge, the car carrier vessel remains seaworthy, and is maintained in accordance with commercial marine standards and applicable laws and regulations of the governing shipping registry as required under the bareboat charter.

As of December 31, 2015, Fugro had one hundred forty three payments remaining. To the best of our Investment Manager’s knowledge, the mini geotechnical drilling vessel remains seaworthy, and is maintained in accordance with commercial marine standards and applicable laws and regulations of the governing shipping registry as required under the bareboat charter.

Revolving Line of Credit

On March 31, 2015, we extended our revolving line of credit (the “Facility”) with California Bank & Trust (“CB&T”) through May 30, 2017 and the amount available under the Facility was increased to $12,500,000. The Facility is secured by all of our assets not subject to a first priority lien. Amounts available under the Facility are subject to a borrowing base that is determined, subject to certain limitations, by the present value of the future receivables under certain loans and lease agreements in which we have a beneficial interest.

The interest rate for general advances under the Facility is CB&T’s prime rate. We may elect to designate up to five advances on the outstanding principal balance of the Facility to bear interest at the London Interbank Offered Rate plus 2.5% per year. In all instances, borrowings under the Facility are subject to an interest rate floor of 4.0% per year. In addition, we are obligated to pay an annualized 0.5% fee on unused commitments under the Facility. At December 31, 2015, there were no obligations outstanding under the Facility and we were in compliance with all covenants related to the Facility.

One of our objectives is to provide cash distributions to our partners. In order to assess our ability to meet this objective, unaffiliated broker dealers, third party due diligence providers and other members of the investing community have requested that we report a financial measure that can be reconciled to our financial statements and can be used to assess our ability to support cash distributions from our business operations. We refer to this financial measure as cash available from our business operations, or CABO. CABO is not equivalent to our net operating income or loss as determined under GAAP. Rather, it is a measure that may be a better financial measure for an equipment fund because it measures cash generated by investments, net of management fees and expenses, during a specific period of time. We define CABO as the net change in cash during the period plus distributions to partners and investments made during such period, less the debt proceeds used to make such investments and the activity related to the Facility, as well as the net proceeds from equity raised through the sale of interests during such period.

We believe that CABO may be an appropriate supplemental measure of an equipment fund's performance because it is based on a measurement of cash during a specific period that excludes cash from non-business operations, such as distributions, investments and equity raised.

Presentation of this information is intended to assist unaffiliated broker dealers, third party due diligence providers and other members of the investing community in understanding the Fund's ability to support its distributions from its business operations. It should be noted, however, that no other equipment funds calculate CABO, and therefore comparisons with other equipment funds are not meaningful. CABO should not be considered as an alternative to net income (loss) as an indication of our performance or as an indication of our liquidity. CABO should be reviewed in conjunction with other measurements as an indication of our performance.

Cash Available from Business Operations, or CABO, is the cash generated by investments during a specific period of time, net of fees and expenses, excluding distributions to partners, net equity raised and investments made.

Net Change in Cash per GAAP Cash Flow Statement	Business Operations Net cash flow generated by our investments, net of fees and expenses (CABO)	Non-Business Operations Net Equity Raised Cash expended to make investments and Distributions to Partners
----------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

As indicated above, the total net change in cash is the aggregate of the net cash flows from Business Operations and the net cash flows from Non-Business Operations. By taking the total net change in cash and removing the cash activity related to Non-Business Operations (distributions, investments and equity raised), the amount remaining is the net cash available from Business Operations (net cash flows generated by investments, net of fees and expenses).

In summary, CABO is calculated as:

Net change in cash during the period per the GAAP cash flow statement
 + distributions to Partners during the period
 + investments made during the period
 - debt proceeds to be specifically used to make an investment
- net proceeds from the sale of Interests during the period
 = CABO
