As of June 30, 2017, the company's cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash and short-term investments totaled RMB46.1 billion (US$6.8 billion). For the second quarter of 2017, free cash flow from continuing operations of the company was as follows:

	For the three months ended
	June 30, 2016	June 30, 2017	June 30, 2017
	RMB	RMB	USD
	(In thousands)
Net cash provided by operating activities from continuing operations	5,187,366	17,863,075	2,634,944
Add: Impact from JD Baitiao included in the operating cash flow	4,473,323	3,748,681	552,960
Less: Capital expenditures	(1,025,018)	(1,305,148)	(192,520)
Free cash flow	8,635,671	20,306,608	2,995,384

Net cash used in investing activities from continuing operations was RMB16.4 billion (US$2.4 billion) for the second quarter of 2017, consisting primarily of increases in short-term investments of RMB8.0 billion, increases in financial support to JD Finance of RMB4.5 billion, increases in investment in equity investees and investment securities of RMB2.9 billion, cash paid for capital expenditures of RMB1.3 billion, and partially offset by JD Finance reorganization related net cash consideration of RMB1.9 billion received by the company's PRC subsidiary.

As of June 30, 2017, the majority of the cash consideration related to JD Finance reorganization to be received by the company's overseas subsidiary was held in JD Finance's escrow account pending standard administrative filing procedures regarding cross-border payment imposed by State Administration of Foreign Exchange and approximately RMB2.5 billion remained receivable. Although the company obtained control of the escrow account as of June 30, 2017, the cash consideration hasn't been transferred into the company's general bank account yet. Therefore, these cash and receivable were recorded as amount due from related parties in the consolidated balance sheet, and thus do not have an impact on cash flow for the quarter.

Net cash provided by financing activities from continuing operations was RMB8.2 billion (US$1.2 billion) for the second quarter of 2017, consisting primarily of net proceeds from nonrecourse securitization debt.

For working capital turnover days, see table under "Supplemental Financial Information and Business Metrics."

Recent Developments

JD Finance Reorganization

As of June 30, 2017, JD Finance has been deconsolidated from JD.com as a result of the reorganization, principal terms of which were previously announced. As JD.com and JD Finance are under the common control of Mr. Richard Liu, JD.com's Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer, the gain of RMB14.2 billion (US$2.1 billion) from the disposal of JD Finance through a common control transaction was recorded in equity account as additional paid-in capital in the second quarter of 2017. The gain represents the excess of cash consideration, net of taxes, over the net carrying value of the disposed equity stake in JD Finance. JD Finance's historical financial results are reflected in the company's consolidated financial statements as discontinued operations.

JD Logistics Cost Reclassification

In April 2017, the company established JD Logistics, a new business group under JD.com, which leverages the company's advanced technology and logistics expertise to provide logistics services to businesses across a wide range of industries. As JD Logistics has changed from supporting the overall JD platform to an independently operated business unit, cost related to the logistics services provided to merchants and other third parties are reclassified from fulfillment expenses to cost of revenues. The amount of fulfillment expenses that has been reclassified to conform to the current period financial statement presentation were RMB2.6 billion for the year ended December 31, 2016 and RMB0.7 billion for the three months ended March 31, 2017, respectively.

Non-GAAP Measures

In evaluating the business, the company considers and uses non-GAAP measures, such as non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations, non-GAAP operating margin, non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders, non-GAAP net margin, free cash flow, non-GAAP EBITDA, non-GAAP EBITDA margin, non-GAAP net income/(loss) per weighted average number of shares and non-GAAP net income/(loss) per ADS, as supplemental measures to review and assess operating performance. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("U.S. GAAP"). The company defines non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations as income/(loss) from operations excluding share-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions, revenue from business cooperation arrangements with equity investees and impairment of goodwill and intangible assets. The company defines non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders as net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders excluding share-based compensation, amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions, revenue from business cooperation arrangements with equity investees, gain on disposals of business, income from non-compete agreement, reconciling items on the share of equity method investments, net income attributable to mezzanine classified non-controlling interest shareholders, impairment of goodwill, intangible assets and investments. The company defines free cash flow as operating cash flow adding back the impact from JD Baitiao included in the operating cash flow and less capital expenditures, which include purchase of property, equipment and software, cash paid for construction in progress, purchase of office building, intangible assets and land use rights. The company defines non-GAAP EBITDA as non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations plus depreciation and amortization excluding amortization of intangible assets resulting from assets and business acquisitions.

The company presents these non-GAAP financial measures because they are used by management to evaluate operating performance and formulate business plans. Non-GAAP income/(loss) from operations, non-GAAP net income/(loss) attributable to ordinary shareholders and non-GAAP EBITDA reflect the company's ongoing business operations in a manner that allows more meaningful period-to-period comparisons. Free cash flow enables management to assess liquidity and cash flow while taking into account the impact from JD Baitiao included in the operating cash flow and the demands that the expansion of fulfillment infrastructure and technology platform has placed on financial resources. The company also believes that the use of the non-GAAP financial measures facilitates investors to understand and evaluate the company's current operating performance and future prospects in the same manner as management does, if they so choose. The company also believes that the non-GAAP financial measures provide useful information to both management and investors by excluding certain expenses, gain/loss and other items that are not expected to result in future cash payments or that are non-recurring in nature or may not be indicative of the company's core operating results and business outlook.

The non-GAAP financial measures have limitations as analytical tools. The company's non-GAAP financial measures do not reflect all items of income and expense that affect the company's operations or not represent the residual cash flow available for discretionary expenditures. Further, these non-GAAP measures may differ from the non-GAAP information used by other companies, including peer companies, and therefore their comparability may be limited. The company compensates for these limitations by reconciling the non-GAAP financial measures to the nearest U.S. GAAP performance measure, all of which should be considered when evaluating performance. The company encourages you to review the company's financial information in its entirety and not rely on a single financial measure.

(1) Due to certain existing contractual arrangement, the company will remain as the legal owner of the existing consumer credit (known as JD Baitiao) receivables, while JD Finance will continue to perform the credit risk assessment services for the individuals and purchase the over-due receivables from the company at carrying value to absorb the risks and obtain the rewards from JD Baitiao business. The company will also facilitate JD Finance in various asset-backed securitization ("ABS") to raise fund to support the JD Baitiao business. JD Finance will act as the servicer of the ABS and will also subscribe to the subordinate tranche. Due to the company's continuing involvement right in ABS under the current arrangement and the transfer restriction imposed on JD Finance for the subordinate tranche in ABS, the company cannot derecognize the Baitiao receivables through ABS under U.S. GAAP. As a result, the Baitiao receivables and related nonrecourse securitization debt will remain on the company's consolidated financial statements until alternative arrangements are established.

(5) Inventory turnover days are the quotient of average inventory over five quarter ends to total cost of revenues for the last twelve months and then multiplied by 360 days.

(6) Accounts payable turnover days are the quotient of average accounts payable over five quarter ends to total cost of revenues for the last twelve months and then multiplied by 360 days. Presented are the accounts payable turnover days for the online direct sales business.

(7) Accounts receivable turnover days are the quotient of average accounts receivable over five quarter ends to total net revenues of the last twelve months and then multiplied by 360 days. Presented are the accounts receivable turnover days excluding the impact from JD Baitiao.

(8) GMV is defined as the total value of all orders for products and services placed in the company’s online direct sales business and on the company’s online marketplaces, regardless of whether the goods are sold or delivered or whether the goods are returned. GMV includes the value from orders placed on the company’s websites and mobile applications as well as orders placed on third-party mobile applications that are fulfilled by the company or third-party merchants. The company’s calculation of GMV includes shipping charges paid by buyers to sellers and excludes any transactions in the company’s B2C business with order value exceeding RMB2,000 that are not ultimately sold or delivered. If the company’s calculation of GMV includes total value of all orders for products and services placed in the company’s online direct sales business and on the company’s online marketplaces, regardless of whether the goods are sold or delivered or whether the goods are returned and shipping charges paid by buyers to sellers, and excludes products or services with list prices above RMB100,000 as well as transactions conducted by buyers who make purchases exceeding RMB1,000,000 in the aggregate in a single day (similar to the practice of the company’s major industry peer), the company’s GMV for the second quarter of 2017 would have been RMB335.3 billion.

(9) Orders fulfilled are defined as the total number of orders delivered, including the orders for products and services sold in the company’s online direct sales business and on the company’s online marketplaces, net of orders returned.

(10) Annual active customer accounts are customer accounts that made at least one purchase during the twelve months ended on the respective dates, whether through online direct sales or online marketplaces.
