Bilibili and Tencent Partner to Broaden Anime and Games Content for Gen Z Platform

SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 25, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) — Bilibili Inc. (“Bilibili” or the “Company”) (Nasdaq: BILI) and Tencent Holdings Limited (“Tencent”) (00700.HK), today announced that they have entered into a strategic collaboration agreement (the “Agreement”) for sharing and operating existing and additional anime and games on Bilibili’s leading online entertainment platform for young generations in China. Under the Agreement, Bilibili and Tencent will participate in the exchange and purchase of existing anime copyright, and jointly procure, produce and invest in anime projects, as well as seek investment opportunities in the animation and comic industry. In addition, Bilibili will expand its cooperation with Tencent by jointly operating more Tencent games on Bilibili’s platform.

The Agreement follows a previously announced investment by Tencent of approximately US$317.6 million in cash in Bilibili, bringing Tencent’s ownership to approximately 12% of Bilibili’s total issued shares.

“The strategic cooperation with Tencent further aligns us with China’s leading internet company, and supports our strategy to bring high quality content and services to our growing community,” said Mr. Rui Chen, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Bilibili. “We can now leverage Tencent’s innovative research and development capabilities and premium content, particularly in licensing, co-producing and investment in anime, as well as game publishing. We look forward to working together to continue to raise the bar for content and accessibility for our growing Bilibili community. Together, with Tencent’s deep resources and Bilibili’s best-in-class platform, we can continue to bring rich content to China’s ever growing number of online enthusiasts, while increasing the value we bring to all of our stakeholders.”

“The strength of Bilibili’s online community is apparent in their platform’s rise to popularity among China’s intellectually curious population of young people,” said Martin Lau, President of Tencent. “We greatly value Bilibili’s Gen Z demographic with entertainment needs that welcome a steady stream of new content. Such an active user base along with Bilibili’s ecosystem is ideally suited for nurturing the type of creative and transformative internet games and products Tencent is known for bringing users around the globe.”
